Tisch Honored with Gold ADEX Award

Holland Landing, Ontario, March 31, 2010 – Inscape Corporation, a leading designer, manufacturer and distributor of innovative workplace solutions, announced its Tisch table-based system has been honored with a Gold ADEX award.

Tisch is a European designed table-based system that promotes interaction and communication. Designed with modular components and an intelligent rail system, Tisch can be easily reconfigured as workplace needs change and evolve.

Utilizing a small set of components, Tisch can migrate from a single desk to benching and desking applications, and is also a versatile alternative for conference table applications. Stylish design and flexibility combine for a system that is ideal for collaborative and project-focused applications, but can also adapt for hotelling and more traditional applications. A comprehensive cable management system provides fast and easy access to power and data. Accessory rails, organizer units, screens, filing trays and shelves help users to work more efficiently.

“The workplace is continuing to evolve towards more open, desking and benching style applications. Tisch is the perfect solution for forward-thinking organizations looking for an aesthetically superior and functional solution for their work environment,” says Sharad Mathur, Vice President of Marketing.
